

PRACTICAL TRAINING OF LSU STUDENTS HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

The training is carried out in several institutions such as Hirkan National Park, ASAN Service Center, Luxe Hotel, Lankaran History and Ethnography Museum, and other organizations.

Graduate students also participate in scientific and pedagogical practice within the framework of their master programs, carrying out practical activities at the university and relevant institutions.

The main objective of these practice programs is to strengthen students' theoretical knowledge through practical experience, familiarize them with real working environments, and better prepare them for their future professional careers.
